San Francisco, May 24 (AP)—"About 180" American carrier planes raided Japanese air bases on Kyushu, southernmost Nippon island, Tokyo radio reported in an unconfirmed broadcast today. The report, heard by the F.C.C., said the carrier aircraft striking in mid-afternoon (Japanese Time) inflicted "relatively light damage." Another Japanese radio report said 23 American Liberators bombed Singapore yesterday afternoon but caused "practically no damage."

After Mennonites Tell

of Patients' Abuse

Poughkeepsie, May 24 (AP)—Dr. John F. Ross, director of the Hudson River State Hospital, declined today to name the four attendants dismissed yesterday on charges of abusing patients.

Dr. Ross said the attendants were dismissed on evidence furnished by members of the Mennonite Sect. Twenty-two Mennonites, all conscientious objectors, are employed at the hospital under "loan" by Selective Service.

Two of the attendants, one a veteran of the first World War and the other a veteran of the present one, were given hearings. In explaining why he would not reveal the names of the four, Dr. Ross said he believed they would have a hearing before the State Civil Service Commission.

Al Albarg, Dr. Newton J. T. Bigelow, deputy mental hygiene commissioner, said his department had not yet received Dr. Ross's formal report of the discharge.

The American Legion's Lafayette Post in Poughkeepsie has adopted a resolution requesting its commander, Sam J. Kalloch, to appoint a committee of post members to meet with a county Legion committee to discuss the question of conscientious objectors and their relation to other employees of the hospital.

of the civil cabinet; and Rear Adm. Hermann Wagner, head of the military cabinet.

Dr. Wilhelm Stuckart, minister of interior and minister of science, education and publication instruction, is believed to have been arrested yesterday but his identification has not been established definitely.

The ninth cabinet member, Dr. Julius Dornmüller, was reported by the S.H.A.E.F. control party at Flensburg still to be in Malente, a small town in Oldenburg between Kiel and Luebeck.

A report from the 21st Army Group said Adm. Gen. Hans Georg von Friedeburg committed suicide by poisoning after being placed under arrest at Flensburg yesterday.

Supreme headquarters said last night it had heard the report, but had not been able to confirm it officially.

Doenitz said he last saw Himmler at Mecklenburg on May 6 and advised him "to take a plane and fly south."

Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl, German Army chief of staff who was among those arrested at Flensburg, asserted he and Himmler had left Berlin together late in April and that they last met in Mecklenburg on May 4.

Neither Doenitz or Jodl could—or would—confirm reports that both Himmler and von Ribbentrop had escaped from Germany at the last minute by boat or plane.

Doenitz likewise indicated he had no direct information concerning the reported death of Hitler in Berlin. His knowledge apparently was limited to the following message dated May 1 and signed "Goebbels" which he turned over to Allied officers:

"Hitler died 3:30 p. m. Take over any action you deem necessary under circumstances."

No trace of Hitler's body has been found, although the Russians have pledged themselves to search 50 years for his remains if necessary in order to establish that he really is dead.

The latest version of Hitler's fate turned up yesterday in the form of a Russian intelligence report—made available to Allied Supreme Headquarters—which said the Fuehrer, partly paralyzed and in pain, had been put out of his misery by a doctor who injected an overdose of drugs.

The doctor was identified by the Russians as a "Prof. Morel."

The Allied manhunt for top Nazis narrowed down to Himmler and von Ribbentrop when Julius Streicher, the notorious Jew-baiter was captured on a farm in the Bavarian hills by officers of the 101st Airborne Division. The once arrogant publisher of the violently anti-Semitic Der Stuermer tried to pretend he was an eccentric artist when he was taken into custody by a Jewish lieutenant from New York and three other Americans.

Woolworth Store

To Be Improved

Plans Are to Make It

One of Most Modern

A. L. Cornwell, executive vice president of the F. W. Woolworth Co., at the recent annual meeting of stockholders, said that, in line with the company's program of enlarging and improving stores which had proved to be most profitable, a considerable number of stores had been designated for improvement as soon as the war is over.

It seems to be generally understood that among the stores to be remodeled in the near future is the large double store of the company on Wall street, Kingston, which the company owns.

Runners which for some time have been in circulation have it that the Kingston store when remodeled will be one of the most modern stores in the country, with an enlarged eating unit that will extend the entire length of the store and probably some extension at the rear, with additional lines of higher-priced merchandise carried.

The Kingston store, it is said, has been designated as one of the first of the Woolworth stores to be remodeled and modernized, with the work of improvement to be gotten under way as soon as materials are available.

Incidentally, it was announced at the annual meeting that the Woolworth Co. sales for the first four months of 1945 were $139,519,616, a gain of 5.13 per cent over the comparable period in 1944.

No Man 30 or Older

Will Be Drafted

No men in the age group of 30 through 37 years who are engaged in work essential to the war effort or in useful civilian work will be inducted into the armed forces from Kingston it was made plain today by Chairman Henry C. Connelly of the Kingston Selective Service Board.

This action by the local board is based upon the recent ruling of Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service.

The number of men in this age group in Kingston has not been ascertained as yet. Inquiry at the local draft board office brought the information that the number would not be known until the list of men had been checked.

The local board is planning to send two contingents to Albany on Friday, June 1, one for induction into the armed forces, and the other for pre-induction physical examination. None of the men in either contingent will be 30 years of age or older.

Iodine stains can best be removed with ammonia which forms a colorless compound which can be completely rinsed from the fabric.

Funds Are Asked

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau is asking the budget bureau and Congress for funds to recruit an additional 5,000 treasury field agents "at once" in a fast-mounting investigation of tax evasion.

There now are 1,500 agents at work, Morgenthau said. "We are running into so many shocking cases. It is shocking, revolting, and disgusting that anybody who has got a fine business in wartime should try to make these illegal profits by evading their taxes."

New York, May 24 (AP)—Donald

Flier, 18, a 200-pound sailor, was arrested today after police said, he admitted throwing an 11-year-old boy into Central Park Lake last night because the boy interrupted his attentions to a girl.

The boy, Charles Christie, was rescued by a police patrolman.

Police quoted Flier, who gave his address as 305 West Cherokee street, Enid, Okla., as saying:

"I only had a 48-hour pass and was with a girl I met only a week ago. We were sitting on a bench and I was making love to the girl when the boy annoyed us. I must have lost my head."

Arraigned in felony court, Flier waived a hearing and was held in $500 bail for the grand jury. The boy was in court with a representative of the Children's Aid Society.

"It's fortunate the boy knew how to swim—otherwise there might be a manslaughter charge," Assistant District Attorney Herbert Lippman told the court.

Briton Has Idea

London, May 24 (AP)—E. L. Leeming, surveyor, suggested today that German prisoners be used to build a 400-mile super-highway from London to Glasgow as a memorial to Prime Minister Churchill.

The plan was laid before the cabinet. Leeming said three-fourths of Great Britain's population would be within 25 miles of the highway.

Churchill Begins Picking

'Caretaker Government';

Soldiers to Vote

London, May 24 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill began today the task of choosing the members of his new "caretaker government," as sections of the London press saluted the now dissolved coalition which under his leadership piloted Britain through five perilous years.

Political correspondents of London newspapers agreed generally that the prime minister would have most of the cabinet offices filled by the week-end, and that the new interim government would be ready to meet when Commons sits again next Tuesday.

With labor and liberal ministers leaving the cabinet, the independent Daily Mail predicted that "several junior ministers who have done good work during the war will be promoted to cabinet rank and posts will be found for those on war service."

Deputy Prime Minister Clement Attlee, Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin, Home Secretary Herbert Morrison and other labor leaders, now at a labor party conference at Blackpool, were expected to hand over their seals of office to the King by Monday.

With Britain facing serious international and domestic problems, the 70-year-old prime minister formally tendered his resignation yesterday to King George, who appointed Churchill to form the temporary government to serve until after the election—the first general election for Britain in 10 years.

The heavily Conservative Parliament will continue to sit until dissolved by proclamation of the King on June 15. The national vote will be on July 5, and political writers expressed belief a new Parliament would meet for the first time July 31 or August 7.

The independent and influential Times of London reminded all parties that the Japanese war still remains to be fought. It said that "what may be legitimately asked of all parties in the coming struggle at the polls is that they shall remember that there is still a deadly enemy in the field and keep domestic controversy within the bounds of moderation."

The Liberal News Chronicle said the government "was one which would 'live in history'."

The Conservative Daily Telegraph said there would be no pretense about the political battle now beginning, "but there's nothing hypocritical about pausing for a moment to salute the common achievements of the past before turning to the battle of the future."

A three-weeks delay before the official result is made known will be caused by recording of the service vote. About 90 per cent of members of the armed forces is believed eligible to vote.

French Will Keep Soldiers in Syria, Officials Report

London, May 23 (AP)—Tension remained at high pitch in Syria and Lebanon today as the French government gave no sign of withdrawing troop reinforcements whose arrival in the two countries brought from their governments assertions that their sovereignty had been violated.

Dispatches from Cairo said the French attitude apparently remained firm and that there were scant prospects for an early settlement of the situation, which already has resulted in scattered clashes and bloodshed.

Advices from Paris, meanwhile, reported that the French cabinet had held a lengthy night session, presumably in connection with the Levantine affairs, but there was no immediate indication of the outcome. A Paris broadcast said French troops in Syria had been ordered to take up "protective dispositions" and "to remain on the defensive."

The Arab newspaper Al-Difa in Jerusalem said Arabs were observing a general strike throughout Palestine "in sympathy with the Syrians and Lebanese over violation of their independence." The Pan-Arab League previously had denounced the French action. The Paris radio had said the French forces were moved into the Levant states because of military developments in the Far East. Red Army Begins Intensive Period Of Troop Training

Moscow, May 23 (AP)—The Red Army is now in the midst of the greatest training period in its 27-year history.

Dispatches from all over the nation, including the far-flung garrisons of Siberia, have reported an intensive schedule of practice in marching, firing, military tactics and strategy.

Red Star, the official army newspaper, declared: "A serious, thorough, all-around training period has replaced war. Relying on the experience learned in battle, commanders are called upon to stiffen and improve the skilled tactics learned in contemporary actions."

The newspaper urged strict discipline on the part of commanders and junior officers in maintaining discipline and seeing that each man participated in the broad training program.

The training schedules are even being carried out in the garrisons of Berlin, Budapest and Vienna.

The garrisons were also engaged in bringing the cities back to life. In Berlin and Budapest, particularly, they were helping clear the streets and restoring utilities to operation.

New York Guard

The New York Guard—1716 to 1945
A Part of the Armed Forces of Our Country for 170 Years
Written by Capt. Montgomery Evans
Assistant Public Relations Officer,
New York Guard

Lieutenant General Hugh A. Drum, commanding the New York Guard, has issued the following statement to all members of that organization. It is of vital importance to every adult person in New York State.

"The war in Europe is over, but our victory is only half won. The war in the Pacific still confronts us. Until the last battle is won and a reorganization of our military establishment on a postwar basis is accomplished, the need for the New York Guard, as such, remains."

"With the arrival of V-E Day in Europe, the New York Guard becomes as necessary as heretofore, with a dedication to the unfinished duty which still lies ahead."

"Victory in Europe places three necessities on the government of the United States: First, it must maintain large forces of occupation in Germany; second, many federal forces will be transferred at the earliest possible time to the Far East; and, third, the government has declared its intention of discharging federal soldiers of long war service."

"If the State Guards of the various states of the Union are of sufficient size, well trained and properly equipped, they can provide all of the necessities of internal security. No federal troops need be held in the United States for the purpose of internal protection. The New York Guard supports the state sovereignty and meets the requirements of internal service, and therefore makes it unnecessary for the national government to maintain federal troops within New York for such purposes."

"When the war in the Pacific is finally won, there will follow a period of general demobilization and reorganization of the Federal Armed Services. During such time there will be a definite and urgent need for guard troops to be immediately available to meet any possible internal emergencies, especially during the entire demobilization period of both men and industry. It should be remembered that the greatest need for guard troops is ahead of us until such time as the present global war is ended. Lincoln stated it very expressively when he said that it is for us, the living, to rededicate ourselves to the unfinished task which lies before us; and that unfinished task—the defeat of Japan and the reorganization for peace—will be a major undertaking that will tax our efforts to the utmost."

"The Constitution of the State of New York requires the maintenance at all times of a well-armed and trained military force. Such a force has been in existence for 170 or more years. Perhaps one-half of the duties performed by state troops in the past have been occasioned by disasters."

Taft Declares U. S. Must Fix Money, Expand Its Trade

Newburgh, N. Y., May 23 (AP)—A State Department official holds that the United States must straighten out its currency relations with the United Nations and expand its international trade. Charles P. Taft, director of the State Department Office of Transport and Communications policy, told a Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting last night that "if we get into another depression everyone is going to be 'protecting everything to the hilt' x x x. Our hope is to keep employment up by expanding trade at home and abroad."

Taft urged straightening out of currency relations with the United Nations through the Bretton Woods Agreement and passage of the Doughton Reciprocal Tariff Bill. He termed the bill "an enabling act, not a tariff cut."

Prisoners Will Work
Camp Upton, N. Y., May 23 (AP)—Col. Raymond E. Scott, post commander, announced today the activation of a prisoner of war base camp here comprising 500 German prisoners. Scott said the prisoners would relieve soldiers for work in the Army Service Corps—Convalescent Hospital, which occupies all of the post except the P.O.W. camp.

and disturbances which occurred until the last battle has been won in times of peace. It is a definite and until the National Guard units necessarily that the armed forces return and our state forces are of New York State be maintained reorganized on a peace basis.

"I earnestly urge every officer and enlisted man to remain at his post in the New York Guard and continue his service and efforts to keep it the trained and effective force that it is today. The New York Guard men!"

4-H CLUB NEWS

Rifton 4-H Club

The Rifton 4-H Club met Tuesday at the schoolhouse. Twenty members were present. Plans for the card party to be held on June 6 were made. The party is to be held at the Rifton Hall.

The pins to be given at the close of school were ordered.

The day of the school and 4-H entertainment was set for June 28.

The motto of the meeting was "I pledge my heart to greater loyalty."

Our country is calling for clothing for the people of Europe. Although there has been a great clothing drive throughout the country, it is not too late to give more. The 4-H boys and girls will collect clothing that anyone wishes to give away. Please look over your clothing and give the 4-H anything that you can spare.

The 4-H drum corps met Wednesday evening for practice for the Memorial Day parade.

'Y.M.' Day Camp To Open June 25

Play Equipment Added and Program Enlarged

Pine Knoll Day Camp of the Central Y. M. C. A. will officially open on Monday, June 25, and continue five days a week for a period of six weeks.

Lou Schafer, day camp director, is now making daily trips to camp completing necessary repairs. He is also building a new basket system, that will better protect the campers' clothing and camping material. A new drinking water pipe line will be laid this week, which will be appreciated by the many campers. New play equipment is being arranged, which afford the campers more fun and recreation during their leisure time in the camp grove. New rope and chain swings are being set-up, along with the swinging rings. Some newly purchased saws will be placed throughout the camp for the younger boys and girls. The camp council ring will be made larger, and new horse-shoe pitching pits will be added. The drinking fountain will be situated in the center of the camp, instead of near the council ring.

This year a special educational feature will be added to the camp program. An art instructor will be at camp two afternoons a week for those campers whose parents will pay a small extra fee for this instruction. Camp, with the woodlands, hills and lake will afford the group taking art instructions a real opportunity to draw many beautiful scenes, thereby furthering their knowledge of beauty.

New camp leaders, both boys and girls, are now taking life saving instructions in preparation for their leadership, water safety and life saving work in assisting the director in promoting the camp program.

Mr. Schafer, has been very busy throughout the past month writing to business concerns for the purchase of leathercraft, wood and knives for three-day wood work, along with other material needed for leisure time craft classes. Because of priorities, many leather articles cannot be obtained. New camp shirts, that were ordered in February, have arrived, and only a small supply could be obtained because of the shortage of cloth material.

The camp committee, under the chairmanship of Chester Baltz, will meet next week to go over the final plans for the promotion of camp. They will also check on the needed material for camp program, as well as transportation, which is one of the most vital necessities connected with camp.

The camp can accommodate 100 campers per day. Boys and girls registering early can have their pick of the weeks wanted. But as soon as any camp week is filled to its limited capacity, Mr. Schafer will have to designate the camper's weeks. It is suggested that all campers get their registration in at once, so that they can have the pick of their desired weeks. Last season 183 boys and girls attended camp with over 40 per cent for the entire six-week season. The peak week was 125 boys and girls, making a total of 142, including the camp leaders and visitors. Camp Director Schafer feels that is too many for good day camp supervision. Camp information can be obtained at the "Y" main office, or by telephoning 3100. Camp folders will be mailed on request.

Boy Takes Conductor's Place on Subway Run

New York, May 24 (AP)—A teenage boy took a subway conductor off his own train yesterday and took his place for an eight mile run through Brooklyn.

The lad was one of a group of boys who heckled Conductor John Flynn until he chased them from a car.

Then, while Flynn was on the platform, the boy sneaked back and pushed a button which automatically closes all doors of the train and signals "go" to the motorman.

At Queens Plaza where officials were waiting for him, the boy slipped from the train and disappeared.

'Poor Boys'

New York, May 24 (AP)—Nine General Sessions judges have asked the city for $1,000 annual cost-of-living bonuses. Four of the judges receive $25,000 yearly and five $22,500. Informed of the request, Mayor LaGuardia's only comment yesterday was: "Poor boys, poor boys."

SPOOK TRICK CHARGED

Charges of swindling a devoted widow, Mrs. Shila Batra, by promising to bring back the spirit of the late Colonel Batra, have been brought against Ram Radeha, Devi Saran and Prem Raj by a Magistrate of Lahore, India. Ram Radeha, in the service of Mrs. Batra, is alleged to have introduced her to Devi Saran and Prem Raj after her husband's death. They are said to have obtained money from her on one pretext or another and induced her to erect a monument costing $1,500 so that the deceased might have peace of mind. Finally, it is charged, Devi Saran produced a serpent, saying the Angel of Death had come, and in this way obtained another $30, cheating her, in all, out of a large sum of money.

Rebuilding Cost Set

War damages to physical properties in France are estimated at $40,000,000,000 by the Minister of Reconstruction who says reconstruction will require the labor of 800,000 persons over an 11-year period. The estimate does not include damage to navigation installations, navy merchant marine, fishing fleet or government buildings, but involves construction of 1,200,000 dwelling units and 120,000 industrial buildings, Paris dispatches state.

BIBLE PRINTING SPURRED

More than 300,000 Bibles and parts of the Bible are now being printed in Sweden, Stockholm reports state. The activity is to help meet sore needs of the Bible throughout Europe. Bible societies of America and Britain are now engaged in a campaign to supply larger quantities of Bibles in many languages, and paper shortages in those countries have caused them to turn to Swedish firms for help. Stockholm is providing Bibles in French, Czech, Serbian, Polish, Rumanian, Lettish, Estonian and Greek. Nearly all Bible depots in Europe are empty and there is heavy reading of the Book throughout all Europe. In Portugal 132,000

Bibles were distributed in 12 months. Printing of the Bible was under ban in Vienna but the Budapest Bible depot is open.

No Tetram—Sheep Dying South African sheep are dying

by thousands for want of tetram chloroethylene, obtainable only in America, according to reports from Windhoek. The chemical forms the basis of a sheep medicine vital to keep the stock healthy in certain districts of South West Africa and although the Administration of the Union made urgent representations to the United States, no supplies are available thus far, it is reported.

On Social Security Benefits Following the regular supper meeting of the Business and Professional Girls Club at the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday, Rubin Blane of the local Social Security Board was introduced as the guest speaker. He explained in detail the benefits of social security to the workers and survivors and urged the members to impress on people to report to the Social Security Board when they reach 65.

During the business meeting Miss Miriam Haloran and Miss Elma Smith, who were delegates to the planning conference at Albany last week-end reported the plans for the regional conference to be held October 20 and 21 in Albany. The theme will be "And Now Tomorrow." The members of the Kingston club will make the programs for the conference which will also be used as favors. The members returned their kitchen planning books and the interest groups met.

The meeting next week will be omitted because of Memorial Day. The following Wednesday, June 6, will be birthday night when the members whose birthdays come in the first half of the year will be honored. The music and dramatic groups will entertain.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children As People," etc.)

WHY IT IS RUDE TO SERVE ONESELF FIRST

For the first time in many months a reader tells me about a discussion that took place on the question of "Why it is rude for a hostess to serve herself first when any woman guest is seated at her table." She adds, "Will you please explain why in detail?"

I have answered this so often (and explained it at such complete length in every edition of my book, "Etiquette"), it seems hardly possible that any of my readers can fail to know the few times when this behavior is excusable and the many times when it is not.

Signing Birth Announcements

Dear Mrs. Post: In a birth announcement that took place on the blank filled in by hand instead of printed or engraved, which is correct to show the names of the baby's parents:

(a) John and Mary Jones
(b) Mary and John Jones
(c) Captain and Mrs. John Jones
(d) Captain and Mrs. Jones (A. U. S.)

Some of these announcements are being sent to intimate friends; some to less personal friends; some to acquaintances, both social and business.

Dinner Guests Do Not Tip

Dear Mrs. Post: We belong to a bridge club. There is one couple in the club who owns a beautiful restaurant and now that it is their turn to entertain the club, they are having us to dinner at their restaurant. The question has arisen whether we should tip the waitresses who serve us or whether doing this would be embarrassing to our hosts.

Answer: Such tips are given always by the hosts, never by their guests.

Should the Hostess Serve Herself or her guests first? The answer is found in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "The Origin of the Great American Rudeness," obtainable for a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent in care of Kingston Freeman, Station G, P. O. Box 99, New York 19, N. Y.

Scotch Miss Reaches 100

When the man she planned to wed in a fortnight, married another, Miss Christina R. Robertson settled down to a life of spinsterhood in the little Scotch village of Freuchie. That was over 80 years ago. Recently she celebrated her 100th birthday. The secret of her longevity, she thinks, is that she has not been hampered by a man. "Better off without them," says Miss Robertson, who claims descent from the Royal Stuarts.

Ulster Tin Drive Piles Up 31,200 For War Council

A car of tin cans weighing 31,200 pounds was shipped out on May 5 by the Ulster County War Council, Salvage Division, as a part of the county's campaign to salvage tin. This shipment represented the salvaged tin cans collected on the last collection date throughout the rural districts. The money received from the cans will go back to the towns contributing in the proportion in which such towns salvaged this vital metal.

At present tin, waste paper and fats are the three very vital necessities for war. Every pound must be salvaged and turned in. Fats are becoming critically short, due largely to the fact that the meat supply has dwindled to the vanishing point and housewives get less fats to turn in. With a dwindling salvage program and an increased demand a severe shortage is in view, a shortage which will not only affect the war effort but will hit housewives too. Fats for soap making are growing short.

Paper is another very important salvage item. Every pound must be saved. Shoppers must accept unwrapped parcels and every scrap of paper returned through salvage drives for re-use.

With the tin mines of the east still in Jap hands the American kitchen continues to be the great tin mine in the world. More tin can come out of the American kitchens than from any other place in the world and every householder is urged to save and salvage every tin can. Cans should be rinsed out, the ends cut out and folded in and the can flattened by stepping on it. These prepared tin cans should then be turned in on the first collection so they may be speeded on to the detinning plants for recovery of this vital metal.

Three More Are Liberated From Nazi Camps

GERALD GERBER

JOHN J. DENTON

DAVID K. ASHDOWN

Word has been received by the families of Staff Sgt. Gerald Gerber, Staff Sgt. John J. Denton and P.F.C. David K. Ashdown that they have been liberated from Nazi prison camps and are back with the American forces.

Staff Sgt. Gerald Gerber sent a cablegram to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Gerber, 123 Wilson avenue, saying that he was safe. The Americans had liberated him at a camp in Austria where he had been held prisoner for almost 13 months. He was reported missing in action over Germany April 19, 1944, when he was an armorer gunner and crew chief on a Flying Fortress. He had been awarded the Air Medal and an oak leaf cluster and had almost completed 25 missions from England.

Staff Sgt. John J. Denton, who has been a prisoner for eight months, is waiting at Hanover, Germany, for his turn to come home. First a telegram from the Red Cross notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denton, of R.F.D. 1, Goldrick's Landing, of his release and then a letter from Sergeant Denton arrived yesterday. He reported that he was well, glad to be free again, and that he had not received any mail during his imprisonment. He was a nose gunner on a B-24 Liberator and had been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal, with an oak leaf cluster. He was also stationed in England.

P.F.C. David K. Ashdown was returned to military control April 28 according to a telegram from the War Department received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ashdown, 154 Foxhall avenue. He was reported missing in action in France January 6. He entered service May 8, 1944, and went overseas last November.

Congressman Hall May Speak Here

Invited to Talk June 16 to Ulster Republicans

It is expected that Congressman Leonard Hall of Nassau county will be present to address the Republican County convention at the Municipal Auditorium on Saturday, June 16, when candidates of the party will be recommended for election to county offices next fall.

Congressman Hall has just returned from a visit to prison camps in Europe and will probably speak on some of the things he saw there. Announcement that Congressman Hall would be the speaker at the convention was made Wednesday, but his attendance however is dependent on his ability to get away from Washington at that time.

Kingston C. of C. Is Congratulated By Newburgh News

The Newburgh News in a recent issue congratulates the Kingston Chamber of Commerce in the following editorial:

Kingston has gone and done it! The Colonial City, which for many years had such lack of civic interest that it struggled along without a Chamber of Commerce, recently formed an organization, modeled a good deal after Newburgh Chamber, and reports it has already enrolled 400 members and has $9,000 in the treasury.

Our upriver friends are to be congratulated. They have achieved something really noteworthy. They have a larger Chamber membership than Newburgh Chamber, which is now in its 64th year. The local organization collected $6,344 in membership dues last year, and as the annual charge here as in Kingston is $25, it is apparent our membership suffers in comparison with that of the upriver fledgling Chamber.

Newburgh Chamber, for all the work it is doing for business and citizens should have a membership of at least 500. It is the most active and helpful organization of its kind along the Hudson between Yonkers and Albany.

Prosecution Ends Case at Newburgh

Motion for Mistrial Denied by Court; Pine Bush Man Heard

Newburgh, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—The prosecution completed its case today in State Supreme Court against Labor Leader Joseph Fay, charged with conspiracy to collect "kick-backs" from workers on New York's Delaware aqueduct project.

A prosecution motion for a mistrial was denied.

Herbert H. Pratt, Pine Bush, who said he had worked on the project from 1939 to 1944, testified he had obtained his job after an interview with Thomas Fanning, one of five officials of Local 825, International Operating Engineers' Union, on trial with Fay.

Pratt stated he had paid a "privilege fee" for working on the project and that he was never accepted as a member of the local.

Pratt said he attended a meeting in the labor temple here, September 25, 1939 at which Fay and Fanning spoke. It was announced, Pratt testified, that anyone could join the local on application. He said he had paid an application fee and received a receipt signed by John A. Lawless, another defendant.

Defense Counsel Robert J. Fitzsimmons agreed to stipulate that testimony by five other witnesses along the same line be admitted. The motion for mistrial was made yesterday by Assistant Attorney General Howard E. Danahy following objection of Defense Counsel Robert J. Fitzsimmons of testimony introduced by Danahy. Danahy had questioned witnesses on the practice of Local 825, International Operating Engineers Union, (A.F.L.), of issuing working permits to workers on the project.

Fitzsimmons, in his objection, introduced the report of the special grand jury investigating Orange county crime and read excerpts stating that issuance of working cards to regular members was not part of criminal proceedings against the defendants. Five leaders of the local are on trial with Fay. Fay and James Bove, A.F.L. building trades secretary, were convicted March 15 of extortion and conspiracy to extort $703,000 from contractors on the project and were sentenced to serve from eight and one half to 16 years in prison. Bove is on trial in White Plains charged with theft of funds from Local 60 of the Common Laborers Union.

Fay and Bove are free in $25,000 bail each pending appeal from their convictions.
